OUR JUDGE: FAY DAVIS EDWARDS

A native of North Carolina's Outer Banks, Fay Davis Edwards centers her work on environmental concerns and climate change as it relates to the coast. She works across disciplines in painting, photography, installation, and projection. In addition to her studio practice, Fay teaches painting workshops nationally. Her work has been included in exhibits at the Institute of Contemporary Art (Portland, ME), SAB at UMass (Amherst, MA), Telluride Arts (Telluride, CO), and the Imperial Center for the Arts (Rocky Mount, NC). Fay earned her BFA from East Carolina University in Greenville (NC) and her MFA from Maine College of Art & Design in Portland (ME). Her home and studio are located on Roanoke Island, which she shares with a variety of critters including her husband, a lively flock of chickens, and four very opinionated cats.

The Mollie Fearing Memorial Art Show is held annually in memory of Mollie Fearing, one of the founding members of Dare Arts.

In 1975, a group of citizens gathering at Mollie's house began what was originally called the Sea and Sounds Arts Council. It was established to bring cultural arts programming to Dare County, including dance, theater, visual arts, music, literature and more.

50 years later, her vision, and that of our founders, remains strong in our organization.

Mollie was a vital supporter and advocate of the arts until she passed away on September 3, 1997. We are pleased to celebrate her memory and remember her many contributions to our area through this annual exhibit.

Please complete this identification label. If your work is two-dimensional, affix it to the upper left corner on the back of your artwork. If your work is three-dimensional, please attach it to the bottom of the work.
