

Artist Bio: Jackie Tury

Jackie Tury is an award winning artist living in Kitty Hawk. Where sky meets sea is her favorite place to be.

She is endlessly amazed and inspired by the natural beauty of the Outer Banks and is grateful to live in a place that speaks to her soul.

Jackie began painting during what she calls her “artful awakening” or “midlife metamorphosis” and has been painting ever since.

She uses an intuitive painting process allowing each work of art to unfold layer by layer from the inside out with intuition as her guide. She begins by painting a positive affirmation across the blank canvas. She then focuses on the freedom and joy of the creative process—the colors, energy, emotion and movement of the piece as opposed to a predetermined image or outcome. Her vibrant paintings ebb and flow between colorful abstracts and expressive seascapes. Each of Jackie’s paintings is full of color, joy and positive energy and she hopes that’s what they bring to you!